

Start-of-Semester Information

Spring 2026

Know Your Rights Resources

As we start the spring term, and in light of heightened Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) activity in the LA and OC regions, we understand that there may be added anxiety among our campus community. Cypress College and the North Orange County Community College District are committed to supporting and protecting all members of our community while ensuring you are in a community that is committed to you and your success.

We are taking this moment to share some information about our support programs available to Cypress College students. These programs provide crucial resources and services that help our students overcome barriers, succeed academically, and thrive personally.

Our campus resource page includes essential tools to help you feel ready. This includes links to the District's protocol for immigration-related requests.

More information is available in Dr. Thayer's January 29 email with the subject line "Know Your Rights Resources."

UndocuAdvocate Training

We invite you to join us for an UndocuAdvocate Training, a professional development opportunity designed to deepen our collective understanding of the lived experiences of undocumented and mixed-status students in higher education. In today's complex educational landscape, undocumented students navigate unique institutional and pedagogical challenges. This training centers their experiences and explores the critical role we all play in fostering inclusive and affirming environment.

The training will be held on Tuesday, February 24, from 10 a.m.-noon. We strongly encourage faculty, staff, administrators, and student-facing professionals to attend and be part of this important conversation.

Additional information will be distributed next week or please contact AnneMarie Ruelas.

ChAT

The Charger Assessment Team, known as ChAT, has four referral branches designed to support students and our campus community. These branches are:

1. ChAT Cares — submit a ChAT Cares referral if you notice a student who may be struggling or facing challenges that could affect their well-being or engagement.
2. ChAT Conduct — submit a ChAT Conduct report for potential violations of BP 5500: Standards of Student Conduct.
3. ChAT Title IX — submit a ChAT Title IX report for concerns related to discrimination, harassment, or sexual misconduct.
4. ChAT Threat Assessment — submit a ChAT Threat Assessment report if a student may pose a risk to themselves or others.

Submit a report on the ChAT webpage. For emergency situations, call Campus Safety at (714) 484-7387 and 911.

More information is available in a January 26 email from Celeste Phelps with the subject line of “The Charger Assessment Team (ChAT) is here for you!”

Information from Disability Support Services

In preparation for the start of the semester, below is some important information to assist in supporting DSS students in your courses.

- Accommodation Letters — Students who are eligible and wish to receive disability accommodations will request their accommodation letters through the DSS student portal. Faculty may access these letters for their students through the DSS Instructor Portal. Additional guidance is available on the How to Access Your Students' Accommodations web page.
Please note: All accommodations must be requested and approved through DSS. Faculty are not required to implement any accommodation unless it is documented in the official accommodation letter or, in limited cases, approved by the college ADA compliance officer, Dean Celeste Phelps.
- Testing Accommodations — To request assistance with testing accommodations, please upload exams and provide relevant details through the DSS Instructor Portal. Additional guidance is available on the How to Submit Exam Information.

- Note-Taking Technology — DSS offers note-taking tools such as Otter and Genio, which students may use on their own devices. If a student experiences difficulty using these tools due to a disability, DSS may contact you to explore alternative note-taking options.
- DSS Classroom Presentation — To request a brief presentation for your class about DSS services, please complete the DSS Information Session Request Form.

For any questions or support, please contact DSS at (714) 484-7104 or email DSS@cypresscollege.edu.

Syllabus Statements

Please include the syllabus statements for Title IX, the Charger Assessment Team (ChAT), and accessibility in your completed syllabi. These statements are essential to ensuring students are well informed and supported, and they can also help you plan proactively for the semester ahead.

The full statements are available in a January 27 email from Celeste Phelps with the subject line of “Important Syllabus Statements -- Title IX; ChAT; Accessibility.”

Lifeguard Stations

Two lifeguard stations are up and running to support our students this week and the first week of classes. The stations operate from 7:30 a.m.-5 p.m. daily through February 5. The first is located in Gateway Plaza between the flag pole and the Student Center. The other is located adjacent to the pond, between the L/LRC and Gym 1.

The ambassadors will provide students with directions and campus maps, along with other information to facilitate a successful start to the semester.

Parking Information

Enforcement of parking permits for student spaces begins Wednesday, February 18. A visible and valid staff permit is required to park in staff spaces at all times during the week.

Students have been informed of the following:

Cypress College uses an online parking permit vehicle registration management system to activate your semester parking permit and add or remove vehicles you may park on campus.

Please register your vehicles using the instructions below. All vehicles that may be parked on campus must be registered in the parking permit vehicle registration management system.

Failure to register your vehicle or properly display a parking permit will result in a parking citation and fine of $37.

If you activate your permit and add your vehicles in the system by Friday, February 6, your spring parking permit will be sent to you via mail. Permits registered on or after Saturday, February 7, will need to be picked up at the Campus Safety Office with valid ID and proof of parking permit payment.
